

DAGGERS AT THE MOON

HAWNAY TROOF

"A fully realized album that fuses his hot-headed and fun approach to music making with some surprisingly great experimentation.... A confidence that has moved beyond the ego and into a territory that enables him to get away with just about anything."

-Pitchfork Media

"A bewilderingly awesome musical gumbo... beat-driven, stutter-filled jams will move your feet the way they were meant to move -- with wild abandon and reckless intent."

-SPIN

"Dancing extravaganza"

-MTV

"His strongest effort yet. He is moving into pop territory, but strangeness, dissonance, and hyperactivity are still Troof trademarks, as agreeable as punches to a masochist's gut."

-CokeMachineGlow

"...Ludicrously fucking fun musician."

-The Line Of Best Fit

"A mixed bag of awesome."

-Exclaim

"Incredible."

-L.A. Record

"Cryptic introspection and emotional exploration"

-Dirty

"Straight-ahead energy that only has room for the present moment."

-San Francisco Bay Guardian
